

Saturday, February 1st, 2025, Study Session

Hello everyone. Let's start our study sessions on Saturday, February 1st. As you can see from the title on the first screen, we've given it a rather grand title today: 'Feminine Energy that Saves the World.'

There is a term called "Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy." That was used for a while in Byakko, around the middle of the 2010s. That expression refers to the one-sided function of the Universe's positive and negative Smallest Particles. It is also a term that expresses the difference in the function of bipolarity, such as Yin and Yang, positive and negative electrodes, the sun and the moon, the Earth and the sky, etc.

It can also be said that the term is used to refer to 'elements that are indispensable for the creation of the universe' in the sense that if either is lacking, or if either is too great, the whole will not be in harmony, it will not be complete, and nothing will be created.

Above all, masculine and feminine energy can highlight the characteristics of human beings who have been given the same power from the consciousness of the Universe.

In that sense, all the worlds and heavens that exist throughout the Universe were created by Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy and are maintained through a process of renewal. All matter, all spirit, and all existing elements have both Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy.

Let's look at whether or not our physical bodies and spirits are in balance with this important Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy. We can't say that the human race's development level on this planet is very deep. However, since the start of the 21st century, people have become more aware of this essential way of being, so we have made progress in one or two steps compared to a decade ago.

We have touched on the subject of Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy several times in the past, in Saturday evening sessions and previous study sessions. However, since we are not talking about tangible, physical matters, I think that more than half of you probably think, "I don't really understand." So, let's start by reviewing the overall picture of Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy.

The first thing to understand is that this world's Feminine and Masculine Energies are not simply polarized. Also, the Feminine and Masculine Energies each have a light side and a shadow side. That concept differs from the positive and negative aspects of the smallest particles in the Universe, such as electricity. In simple terms, it means the same as good and bad, or strong points and weak points.

You may be thinking, "Why not just the good side? That question can be answered by understanding what kind of world this is. This world is still an imperfect world. It can also be said that it is a world where the ideals of the Universal God have yet to be fully realized or a planet where developing Cosmic Humanity lives.

Because of this, it can be said that, just as there is light and shadow on both the front and back sides, and good and evil, there are also light and shadow aspects to Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy.

The key to activating the positive aspects of Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy is held by those who have woken up earlier than anyone else in terms of consciousness in a world where all humanity is like sleepwalkers. When you look at it objectively, there are more women than men.

Why do you think this is? Why are women more likely than men to awaken to the truth of life, the truth of the Universe, the importance of truth, goodness, beauty, love, and harmony?

There are men here, too, including myself, so for the sake of the men here, they are souls who have experienced everything, both the sweet and the sour, in their lives as women and men. They are people who, before being born into this life, consulted with their Guardian Deities and were born with the role of completing the Earth with a male body. Therefore, they have more awakened Feminine Energy than the average man.

Returning to the question I asked earlier, why are women more likely to awaken earlier? The secret lies in the differences between the structure of the female and male bodies. What is it that takes place for a child to be born? Please look at this from both a physical and spiritual perspective.

Men have a small role to play. Just as God creates the world of the stars and all other beings, it is women who give birth to new life. Men only help out a little. When a woman is born with a woman's mind and body, she is already born with the workings of God within her body.

These days, young men are becoming much more supportive of their wives. More and more men are helping their wives with housework and childcare and sharing the workload. However, in my generation and older, men over 60 would leave the care of their children to their wives and not get involved.

I think that's partly because of the biased common sense that "childcare is something women do" and partly because of selfish thinking, although men probably have various excuses, such as "I don't have breasts." Young men today are different. Many young men let their wives take a day off when they have the day off from work and look after the children.

Those of you here today who have experienced raising children have probably slept with your baby, and when your baby woke up in the middle of the night and cried, you have probably fed them and changed their nappy. You have probably experienced not being able to sleep even if you wanted to.

From a man's perspective, that's amazing. Still, when I hear about my wife Yuko-san's experiences or mothers' experiences worldwide, they do it without thinking about it.

It's a state where the innate maternal instinct is at work, and the body and hands move without having to think, "What should I do? How should I do it?" This Feminine Energy needs to be awakened in men too. (This is the conscious aspect, excluding the physical function of giving birth to children)

However, in order for this to happen, it is important for those of us who were born with a female body to live our lives with even more radiance.

Today, I will discuss something I've probably never told you before. I've talked about how I used to be a worthless person, and I've talked about the various things I've done that have led to a complete 180-degree change in my personality. But there's a more fundamental reason. Today, I'm going to talk about that fundamental reason.

My humanity turned towards divinity thanks to my wife, Yuko-san. My humanity changed after I met her. Before that, my heart was more rough. I was sharp. I was a person with many sharp corners.

It was my wife, Yuko-san, who took away those sharp edges. Of course, there were times when she said something to me, but it wasn't anything she did in particular. She stayed with me, a "no good man," which made me change into a "slightly better person."

What changed me about her? It was her Feminine Energy. The Feminine Energy that she had manifested made my Masculine Energy (the manifestation of the negative side of Masculine Energy) soften and become more rounded, and that was the most fundamental reason for my change.

There may be men who feel that their wives have changed them. In that sense, if all of you women look back at your surroundings, you will find that you have changed your surroundings. You all have the power to change your surroundings without even realizing it.

If the positive side of Feminine Energy is fully expressed, the world will change greatly.

I mentioned the light and shadow sides earlier, but the positive side of Feminine Energy, the positive side of the positive and negative, the so-called selfless love, unconditional love, is a state where the body naturally moves and works for others.

I think that women will think, "I've helped the people around me, too," and men will think, "Women have helped me."

It's easier to understand if you imagine various workplaces. There are workplaces with both men and women, workplaces with only women, and workplaces with only men. Of these, workplaces with only men are often very unpleasant places where people are very rough with each other. Everyone is very crude.

That is because there are few considerate, kind men. They are men who think, "Listen to what I say," so they clash and rub each other the wrong way. The presence of women there neutralizes the men's tendency to assert themselves.

Of course, even if this is the case, it doesn't mean that all workplaces will be harmonious if there are both men and women. Even so, there are various problems with human relationships, but workplaces with a balanced mix of men and women will have a more relaxed atmosphere than workplaces with only men or only women.

Also, while there may be workplaces with a relaxed atmosphere where only women work when the shadow side of Feminine Energy comes to the fore, there are places where jealousy and gossip come to the surface among people.

In that sense, I hope that the positive aspects of Feminine Energy, such as unconditional love and the power to give birth and nurture, will become more and more prominent in the world from now on.

There was a time in Japan called the Jomon period. That was before the Yayoi period. It is said that this period lasted from 13,000 to 16,000 years.

If you read the records of the people who excavated and investigated the ruins, it is said that there is no evidence of human conflict in the Jomon period ruins. In other ruins around the world, for example, there are skulls that were probably beaten to death, or bones that were probably stabbed to death. That is the standard in the world. However, in Japan's Jomon period, there is no evidence of such things being done.

Also, weapons and armor. Things that could be used as weapons have not been found at Jomon sites. What does this mean? I can only imagine, as I have not seen it, that it was a time when women were respected. Women had power. It was a society centered around women.

Even when I look at the movement of Byakko, it's interesting. First, GOI-sensei appeared. The second generation was a woman called Masami-sensei. The third generation comprises three women: Yuka-sensei, Maki-sensei, and Rika-sensei. It's all women, and it's spreading out. Byakko-Shinkou-Kai itself also has a large female population.

It's not that these Byakko people are going to run for president or become the prime minister of Japan, but if they can live their lives expressing their Feminine Energy in their everyday lives, just that alone will change the men around them.

Please have more confidence in your own Feminine Energy. Please live your life brightly and innocently. Doing that will brighten the people around you, even if you don't try to do anything special. Just by doing that, you will soften the rough hearts of men. You all have that kind of power.

Some of you may think, "No, I'm not married," or "No, I didn't have any children." That has nothing to do with it. Being born as a woman is the key to changing the world so that human beings can be more considerate of each other. That is the positive aspect of Feminine Energy at work.

In today's society, today's world, today's world... Putin, Trump, Netanyahu, Zelensky, Xi Jinping of China, the young general of North Korea, the prime minister of Japan, etc. (There are female leaders in Italy and some other places, but) there are many men.

These men never stop fighting. They never let go of their raised fists. Men are like children. It's like a child's fight. If they think, "I was wrong too," they should say, "I'm sorry," but they can't. They can't.

Because they can't do that, the fighting between Russia and Ukraine has continued for three years. Israel is not satisfied with just Palestine, and they are also attacking Lebanon, a country that is above them on the map. It is a state where the negative aspects of Masculine Energy are being revealed.

I know many of you may not watch much TV, but if you've been watching TV recently, you may have heard about the problem at Fuji Television. It seems that a male employee with a lot of power at Fuji Television was working to get female announcers to go to entertainment events, and as a result, the female announcers were sexually assaulted by famous entertainers and suffered serious emotional and physical trauma.

Fuji TV held a press conference on January 27th. They said, "No employees from our company were involved." It started at 4 pm and finished at around 2:30 am. The press conference lasted for about 10 and a half hours.

About five important people were on stage, including the Chairperson and President of Fuji Television and the parent company, who were answering various questions from the reporters. However, they were only talking about protecting themselves and their organizations. There was almost no talk about protecting women. It was all about protecting the organization.

The Fuji Television press conference and the issue of former SMAP member NAKAI-kun were incidents that symbolized the end of a male-centric society. If we leave things to men, things will end up like that. That's not to say that all the women here will suddenly become central players in politics or company presidents. What is important is that we live our daily lives as we have always done, and we express the divinity inherent in life.

Divinity can be divided into Masculine Energy and Feminine Energy. Masculine Energy is not all bad. There are good and bad aspects to Masculine Energy and good and bad aspects to Feminine Energy.

Until now, this world has been where the negative side of Masculine Energy has been brought to the surface and is the driving force behind society. By bringing out more of the positive side of Feminine Energy, we can neutralize the negative side of Masculine Energy.

So, I'll talk about the male side of things. Men also have feminine energy; the way to develop this is to become one with your Guardian Spirits and Guardian Deities, which will bring Feminine Energy to the surface.

For example, if you keep praying in your daily prayers, "Guardian Deities and Guardian Spirits, please let me be a loving person. May my heart be filled with love. Let me become a person of pure love. May Peace Prevail on Earth. We thank you, Guardian Deities and Guardian Spirits. May our missions be accomplished," your personality will really change.

I've been doing this since I was young but couldn't change. For decades, I lived with a split personality, saying bad things about other people and complaining about my lack of happiness while praying for world peace. It was only after I met my wife, Yuko-san, that I really wanted to change. The positive power of the Feminine Energy that she had was the push I needed.

It's been about 40 minutes now. Let's take a break after doing the Divine Spark IN once. The Prayer is, "May our Feminine Energy and Masculine Energy manifest in a balanced way." Let's get started.

<Divine Spark IN x 1>

Thank you. Now it's 13:41, so we'll resume 13:51 minutes. I'll leave the screen as it was. If you're worried, please turn off your video. I don't think you'll be seen, but please take a break like that. We'll start at 51 minutes.

<10-minute break>

Okay, now it's 51 minutes, so we'll resume. From here, I'd like to talk about Cosmic Beings and CWLP. Here is a book called "The Future of Humanity". It is a book written by Goi-sensei in the latter half of the 1960s. There is a page called "Cosmic Beings and Earthlings". It's page 56.

There are various things written about Cosmic Beings, but Goi-sensei started by teaching religious teachings such as "Prayer for the World Peace" and "How Man Should Reveal His Inner Self." In the middle of the 1950s, he started talking about Cosmic Beings.

He was told by many people who visited him, "Sensei, why do you talk about aliens when the teachings of your wonderful religion are enough?

The reason why I started talking about Cosmic Beings is not because I started it from the side of Physical Bodies. The Cosmic Beings first made contact with us and started interacting with us.

The reason why the Cosmic Beings came to us is because the light waves of our Prayer for World Peace were in perfect rhythm with the waves of the hearts of the Cosmic Beings. Therefore, we were naturally drawn together.

All beings in the Universe are made of vibrations. The difference is whether they are light vibrations or vibrations of karma and thoughts, that is, undeveloped light vibrations.

In that way, GOI-sensei said about the connection between Cosmic Beings and White Light. Furthermore, when we ask how Earthlings and Cosmic Beings (humanity from other planets) differ, Cosmic Beings are beings that are the materialization of Deities. Therefore, the Cosmic Beings that have appeared in physical form can be instantly reduced to light itself.

However, human beings on Earth are not Deities that have materialized. Human beings on Earth live as physical beings with a body of coarser vibrations called a physical body, which is based on the Deities' subtle vibrations and the astral body's even coarser vibrations. In other words, there are four stages.

The four stages that Goi-sensei is referring to here are the God Body, Spirit Body, Astral Body, and Physical Body.

Cosmic Beings can materialize (To be precise, the astral body) by making the subtle Deities' vibrations a little course. Therefore, in every respect, they are far freer and more flexible than human beings on Earth. (omission)

If you look at the whole world, people talking about Cosmic Beings started appearing after the Second World War, and in Japan, they started appearing in the 1960s.

From now on, there will be more and more people who say or write things like "I am a Cosmic Being," "I have met a Cosmic Being," or "I am receiving communications from a Cosmic Being." However, the truth of these things needs to be judged based on the person's character and the correctness and purity of the organization.

Even if a person talks about Cosmic Beings a lot, if their thoughts and actions are low or lackluster, then what they say must be false or the result of mischief by the spirits behind it.

The same is true for psychics. If the Cosmic Beings that appear in response to such low mental activity are the ones that we are holding hands with, then there is no way that the human race on Earth can be saved.

The Cosmic Beings that we seek and interact with are beings of a spiritual rank that is superior to both the Buddha and Jesus. Therefore, there is no way that we can match their wavelength with our half-hearted goodness and goodness alone.

Some people may think we are praising ourselves. However, we are living by casting out all our thoughts and actions into the Prayer for the World Peace.

We are living by being reborn anew from the world of the Prayer for the World Peace, which is the will of God. Therefore, we are not praising ourselves. We are working with a mind that is in a world that has nothing to do with such thoughts and actions.

It says

In order for us to be able to work together with these Cosmic Beings, it is essential that we steadily and patiently continue to do the "Prayer for the World Peace in the form of a fading away." At the end of this passage, Goi-sensei writes, "We need to become enlightened, with no attachments in our hearts, and become one with the Universal God."

Next, I will talk about Cosmic Wave Life Physics (CWLP).

On June 1st, 1962, Masami-sensei's 21st birthday, the "Goi-sensei Institute for Cosmic Particle Life Wave Physics" was established. Under the guidance of Angelus-Color-san, one of the most deeply spiritual of the Venusian Cosmic Angels, the first thing that was done was to draw a picture of the Universal God (the God who created the Universe).

*The picture is written in difficult mathematical formulas and geometric patterns for us laypeople.

No one could do that, so Goi-sensei and Masami-sensei took the lead in starting it. Through this, the form of the Universal God Consciousness, or the Universal God itself, was drawn on a two-dimensional piece of paper, or a drawing.

I think that the CWLP Drawing, or the God Body itself, has probably already been completed by now.

At some point, Masami-sensei also said, "The CWLP is already complete. We are now just waiting for the right time to bring it to Earth."

Those with a strong desire for knowledge may be interested in the deeper details of the CWLP than what Goi-sensei and Masami-sensei have conveyed in Byakko magazine, their books, or their talks.

I'm going to be frank here. It's a waste of time. "It is no matter how much knowledge you have of Cosmic Wave Life Physics, does that make you a better person? It's a much more effective use of your time to spend on becoming a better person yourself."

They will tell us if we need knowledge of CWLP, Masami-sensei, Yuka-sensei, Mahi-sensei, or Rika-sensei. Or they would publish it in writing.

However, there is no such movement at the moment. The fact that there is no such movement means that we don't need to know about CWLP at the moment. So, what is it that we really need?

Suppose we focus on "fundamentally improving ourselves" and look within our hearts. In that case, we will see that everything we need to do and everything we need to know has already been conveyed to us.

It is written in GOI-sensei and Masami-sensei's books, and it is also mentioned in their talks. The only thing left is whether or not we will continue to do it with sincerity.

Those who have continued to do so are here now, manifesting their divinity. You probably have the conviction that "the old me and the new me are completely different."

It is really important to continue to work on making yourself better. "Think of it as disappearing and praying for world peace" is easy to say, but when we start doing it, we will find that it is very profound.

In 1955, Goi-sensei was carried up by the people around him, and the Byakko-Shinkou-Kai was formed. The Goi-sensei-Sanko-kai, a group of volunteers that had existed for about five years before that, became a religious corporation that year. That is how "Religious Corporation Byakko-Shinkou-Kai" was born.

The first President, Mr. YOKOZEKI (who was in charge of looking after Goi-sensei and his wife at the time), went to the Chiba Prefectural Government Office to register the religious corporation and was asked, "Don't you have any teachings? So, he went straight back to Goi-sensei and told him, 'Goi-sensei, it seems that we need something called' teachings.'" I read about this story somewhere. It was just at dinnertime.

So, Goi-sensei stopped what he was doing to write it down, telling YOKOZEKI-san to wait for a moment, and in about 15 minutes, he had written up "How Man Should Reveal His Inner Self," which forms the basis of Goi-sensei's teachings.

From 1955 until Goi-sensei's return to the divine world on August 17th, 1980, the teachings he left behind through his coherent talks and writings were "Think as Disappearing It and Prayer for the World Peace" from beginning to end.

He conveyed this message from various angles, changing the direction of his talk. Goi-sensei had a physical body with a sense of humor. So, while sometimes making the people gathered laugh with his jokes, he conveyed the importance of "Think as disappearing it and Prayer for the World Peace" for 25 years (from 1955 to 1980).

People who were called the elders at the time, such as MURATA Masao-san and SAITO Hideo-san, who have now returned to heaven, also traveled around the country to convey the importance of "Think as disappearing it and Prayer for World Peace" at meetings. I met MURATA-san, but I was unable to meet SAITO Hideo-san.

Listening to MURATA-san's talk and reading his book, I could feel how seriously he had been practicing "Think as disappearing it and Prayer for World Peace."

At that time, I think those who had heard MURATA-san's talk remember that, for example, well... although the way of telling was different depending on the person, he had said: "Do the Prayer for the World Peace 10,000 times".

He said, "May Peace Prevail on Earth. May Peace Prevail on Earth. May Peace Prevail on Earth." He said that if you do the Prayer for the World Peace 10,000 times, your character will really change to a divine character.

I remember most of the story about the posture when doing the Touitsu. When doing the Touitsu, you sit on the floor. If you can't bend your knees, you sit on a chair, but the three points he taught us when doing the Touitsu were

He told us to "straighten our backs, pull our chins in slightly, and relax our shoulders." After that, he gave us instructions on how to do Touitsu.

At the time, I imagined a scene from when I was at the temple, where a young monk was doing zazen training, and a senior monk would walk around with a stick. If the posture of the young monk became sloppy, he would be hit with the stick. So, I was doing Touitsu with fear and trepidation.

When we were doing Touitsu, sometimes our posture would become bad. Our bodies would bend, our necks would droop, and we would start to slouch in various ways.

At times like that, MURATA-san would gently place his hand on my chin and straighten my chin, which was hanging down. Also, when my posture became bad, he would place his hand on my back and straighten it like this.

While receiving this guidance, I learned that "unification is done in this way." That was when I was still in my 20s.

Later on, I realized that "straightening your back, gently pulling your chin in, and relaxing your shoulders" is not just something you do when sitting and unifying, but that you can also use when walking down the street or when sitting in a chair and writing something down.

For me, Murata-san's advice at that time - "straighten your back, pull your chin in slightly, and relax your shoulders" - has become a story that shows the importance of posture in life.

We do many things in our daily lives. We don't sleep all day, we don't sit all day, and we don't stand all day. We live our lives moving in various ways: standing, sleeping, and sitting.

At some point, I began to think that it was important to have the right posture when doing these things, and my understanding of the story changed to one about correcting the posture of the mind.

I was informed that "while the physical body is, of course, important, it is even more important to have the right attitude in your heart."

If our hearts are straight and not distorted, we will no longer think about wrong things that are not in line with the truth. Everyone here today has already stopped thinking about things that are not in line with the truth.

You all have various experiences that have led you to this point. If you could share your experiences with everyone, it would be a great way to help each other.

For example, when I speak to someone on the phone, if it's just one-on-one, you all speak to me with confidence. But if I ask that person, "Would you like to share that story with everyone? , everyone is hesitant. It is beneficial for both parties to talk about their experiences with others.

Of course, people have different personalities, ways of thinking, and ways of looking at things, so it may not necessarily be helpful for everyone. However, as you listen to the stories of various people, if you think "this person's way of living feels close to me," then you should feel free to imitate them.

No matter what you're trying to learn or achieve in any world, you have to start by imitating. By imitating and continuing to do so, you will eventually arrive at a point where your one-of-a-kind originality will emerge.

That is true whether you're drawing pictures or making music. For example, when I first started composing music, the songs I wrote were influenced by my favorite musicians. But as I continued to make music, my original melodies emerged.

The same is true of painting. I'm not very good at painting, but there are painters whose work I like, and when I start painting, their style comes out. However, as the person continues to paint, their original style emerges.

The same is true of seeking the truth and making it your own. There are many different people preaching many different teachings. We hear many different stories of people's experiences.

This can be compared to climbing Mt. Fuji, a mountain that stands alone with no other mountains around it, from the west, east, north, south, southeast, or northeast.

Since everyone is climbing from a different direction, they don't know each other while they are climbing. If they are both climbing, they can't see each other.

If one person has reached the summit, you can see them from the top and know that they are there, but if you are both on the way up, you don't know each other.

Even within Byakko, you hear things like someone saying something about someone else behind their back. That is because we are all walking different paths, climbing Mt. Fuji from different directions.

If we both reach the summit, we will be able to share the same view.

Until we can share that same view, we should refrain from criticizing, judging, and evaluating each other.

It's strange that I, who used to be a genius at talking about other people's faults, am now saying this, but I no longer think about people as being good or bad. I think, "That person is doing that because they need to do it right now, so why not just leave it as it is?"

As we all live our lives following our intuition, there may be people with ideas we don't agree with. But think of them as people climbing Mt. Fuji from a different direction. The best thing for each of us to do is focus on improving and enhancing ourselves.

Nothing will change no matter how much we meddle in other people's affairs. If you want to change other people, change yourself. That is my personal experience. When thinking, "I want to change other people," others didn't change.

But when I changed myself, the way I looked at other people changed, and I stopped suffering in my relationships with other people. So, my motto is "If I change, the world will change". It was a saying from someone else or came from me, but it became my motto before I knew it.

There is a saying, "In 2025, Japan will be recognized by the world and will be respected as a country at the center of peace". In what form will this happen?

At the moment, there are various world lines and various future options. How this will play out will depend on how each of us, living in the present moment, uses our awareness in each moment.

If everyone were thinking, "I wonder if that will really happen?" it would be difficult to move in that direction. However, if everyone was thinking, "We have been praying for World Peace for 1 year, 5 years, 10 years, 20 years, 30 years, 40 years, 50 years, 60 years, 70 years, so, of course, it will happen", then we could shake the hearts of people all over the world from the very foundations. If this happens, the direction of "Let's rebuild the world with Japan at its center" will emerge.

At the moment, it seems that the world is centered on countries such as the United States, Russia, and China, or to be more specific, countries with strong military power, countries with a lot of money, and large countries. However, even now, the Earth is in the middle of a spiritualization process.

The Earth is now entering a spiritual vibration zone. The time will come when this physical body that we think of as our own body and these hands that we think of as our own hands will become spiritual bodies and hands without us even realizing it. It is almost here.

These hands are like a physical body overlapping with a astral one. When these hands become completely astral hands, the astral body will overlap with the spiritual body. And eventually, the spiritual body's vibration will become stronger.

When that happens, an age will come when military power, economic power, personal connections, and power will be of no use.

So, what will be of use? Only character. More than that, spiritual rank, spiritual character, and divine character. Only the strength of the soul will be of use. Such an age will come.

I often tell people around me using a metaphor that "in the future, we will live in a time when 'Deity' and 'Karma' appear on everyone's foreheads, right in the middle of their foreheads." A time will come when everyone will be able to see each other's level of consciousness.

The letters won't appear on your forehead because they are just analogies. But when we meet each other, we will be able to understand each other's spiritual level, and we will be able to know what the other person is thinking. You will inevitably become like that when you enter the spiritual vibration sphere.

In the spiritual world and the divine world, it is like that. You can understand each other.

That time is coming soon. I don't know how many years it will be. After a little more time, the world will change like that. So, while you still can, polish your heart, clean out the dust from your heart, and prepare your heart to be clean. If you do that, you won't have to feel embarrassed when that time comes.

We will be able to live with dignity. Even if the world changes like that, we will be able to live normally without being upset. We can confidently say, "If you want to see me, from the front, the back, or any angle, please look at me."

The whole world will change greatly. The era when men have power will come to an end. The new era will be a society centered on women. The world will change to one where men support women.

Women may think, "Why don't the men take the initiative and change?" However, it will be difficult to expect men to change. That is because many people are unable to accept the truth straightforwardly, because they are too logical.

Men can change when women have the power and strength of Feminine Energy. As women live their lives truly expressing their Feminine Energy, men who are better than the current men will appear one after another.

In that sense, as I mentioned at the beginning, the world will change as the "positive side of Feminine Energy" - the positive side of the positive and negative - becomes more and more active.

This session is the "Backside Zoom Prayer Meeting," but I hope that the "Frontside Zoom Prayer Meeting (morning and evening sessions at 9 o'clock)" will also become a place where women can play a more active role.

There are some men, but I hope that this will become a place where women can shine, with men supporting and helping them.

When men stop thinking "I, myself, myself..." and start to feel joy in supporting others, that is when men will start to feel joy in supporting others.

That is a power that women have naturally from birth. Men are trying to catch up with that. If the positive side of Feminine Energy starts to appear in men, the world will change a lot.

Right now, the world is a very tense place, but the importance of both genders supporting and helping each other will come into the spotlight. The content of TV programs will also change a lot.

Even in our household, we often say to each other as we watch TV, "It would be nice if all the news were good news," and I think that in time, there will be TV stations that only broadcast good news.

It's 14:32. Let's finish for today. To finish, let's perform the Divine Spark IN three times in a row. The prayer is "Jinrui no Shinsei-Fukkatsu, Dai-Jouju." Repeat this twice in Japanese. Let's get started.

Hai, thank you so much. Then, we will end the February 1st study session. Thank you very much for participating today. I will turn on your microphones.

<That's all>
